Time to take out the nice tablecloths

Can you believe that around 30 million people arrive at Changi Airport every year?

This past week alone, Singapore welcomed Pope Francis and Andras “Hide The Pain Harold” Istvan Arato with overwhelming fanfare. And this weekend, Singapore eagerly anticipates the (probable) arrival of livestreaming phenom IShowSpeed, along with hundreds of thousands of Formula One fans.

Stressed and overworked Singaporeans might wonder why people want to come here. Meanwhile, hot-blooded patriots will wax lyrical about Singapore’s cuisine, safety, cleanliness, efficiency and low taxes, and wonder why anyone would leave.

If you apply Singaporean logic, however, the long queues to get into Singapore means that there must be something good at the end.

Wake me up when September ends

For many, the F1 Night Race is just annoying road closures and glitzy networking. Here's why we need to start looking at it differently.

The good life

Just like Christmas calls to mind Jesus and Santa, we can't help but think about S Iswaran during the Singapore Grand Prix weekend (and the 116 Green Room tickets he was said to have obtained).

According to His Corruption Charges, Iswaran Was Living the High School Musical Life

Race to the top

18-year-old Singaporean-Korean Christian Ho has raced in Formula 4 and the Eurocup-3. Now, his crosshairs are firmly set on Formula 1.

We like to go out! We also hate our weather.

But as much as our team is full of contradictions, we simply can't go by our weekend without checking out some things. If you're still deciding on where to go, let us highlight some unmissable events for you:

- Even if you aren't into motor racing, you might be interested in catching music sensations like Honne, Kylie Minogue, OneRepublic and Thirty Seconds To Mars who will be performing at the Marina Bay Street Circuit this weekend.
- Enjoy thought-provoking drawings and installations when you visit Yogyakarta-based Anagard's solo exhibition, From nasi padang to the world.
- Hip-hop rave .WAV\(Y\) returns to Cherry Discotheque with special guest Artan.
- Join the National Museum of Singapore's 137th anniversary celebrations! Enjoy kid-friendly activities, bathe in multisensory installations themed on nature and admire William Farquhar's postcard collection.
- Take your pick from a bevy of Singaporean products, from custom sneakers to quirky homeware, at Creators Marketplace happening at Aliwal Arts Centre.
